

TO THE FIVE HOUSES
CIRCULATED WITHOUT AUTHORITY

The Council put the question and the Council answered it. The candidate is to be measured. That is the vote. It was recorded, it was witnessed, and it is not in dispute by anyone who was in the room.

It is being ignored.

A letter has gone out that no house authorized and no Council sanctioned, written by someone who has decided for themselves that the vote was advisory. It was not advisory. Whoever sent it has exceeded every authority this society grants a member, and has done it in our name, on our paper, to a man who has done nothing to us but work in the open.

We will not name them here. Naming them in writing is what they would want – it would make this a quarrel between persons, and they are very good at quarrels between persons. It is not that. It is a question of whether a vote in this society means anything at all.

So we will say only what we intend.

The work continues. The man continues. Whatever protection this society can extend to him without sanction, we will extend, and we will not be asking permission to extend it. If that is insubordination then the word has lost its meaning, because we are the ones defending the recorded decision of the Council and they are the ones ignoring it.

Some of you will read this and do nothing, and that is your right, and we will not hold it against you. Some of you will read this and act. Understand before you do that you will not be protected while you are protecting him.

We will do what we can.
